Introducing Joe's ScrumAlums (JSA)

free relationship with benefits © 2021, Joe Schofield

- Who: Any client that has registered for one of my Scrum Certification workshops, regardless of who paid for the workshop; includes every country, continent, time zone, zip code, and area code
- What: Free attendance at any of my public certification workshops
- When: Whenever you want, as often as you want
- How: e-mail Joe at least 10 days before the public workshop listed @ https://joejr.com/AllWS.htm
- Where: At the comfort of your Zoom-connected device for remote workshops, or be physically present at in-person events
- Why: To help you and your teams excel both now and as businesses return to full capacity and a stronger economic environment

The motive . . . what's in it for you . . .

1. Refresh your agile & scrum knowledge and deepen your understanding
2. Hear something again for the first time . . . your growth and experience may have brought you to a better learning place and you're seeing old things differently almost like they're new—at least to you
3. Ready yourself to take that overdue exam (the one you postponed, remember?)
4. Meet some new contacts
5. Prepare to re-certify at the end of your three-year certification period
6. Receive future offers and certification discounts

A new benefit for my past Scrum Certification workshop attendees and it's FREE, as in no charge, no cost to you!

- My CFO and Chief Accountant told me this idea would bankrupt me
- My Chief of Operations told me this was a dumb idea
- My Lean Process Officer told me this was adding waste
- My Innovation Team told me this was "too creative"
- HR said I would need to hire too many new folks to pull this off
- Legal thought I was representing your interests, not mine

(Actually, I don't have any such folks; it's just me, and I'm approving my own ideas.)
